

STORMFÅGEL

Stormfågel is led by the bass player, improviser and composer Alfred Lorinius – who's also known from the groups Naoko Sakata Trio, Farvel and Dark Horse.

On this debut album he unifies several of the elements that trough out his life has formed him as a musician, composer and lyricist. To help him he's formed a band of highly regarded musicians, with backgrounds especially in improvised music. Their different expressions is unified here and together with the compositions and texts a magnificent entirety is created, somewhere in the outfields of the experimental rock and pop.

The big and detailed sound is created together with Kristofer Göransson, who's been the sound engineer trough out the recording, mixing and mastering.

Artwork and layout for the album cover is made by the artist Martin Ofersson.
